

Experience verification. Would it be advisable for a worker to maintain a log detailing:

- Dates worked?
- Hours worked?
- Duties performed?
- Have an engineer sign off on each daily log entry related to PT related experience?
- Overall total of hours to date updated?
- How should hours (and years) be documented along the way so that when the minimum years (hours) are reached, the worker can apply for Level II Certification?

ASBI has a form found on the website for applicants to provide their work history. Your suggestion for maintaining records is excellent! ASBI does not require someone to "sign off" on the experience record however this is required for the companion PTI certifications.